Registrations now open for Maine Chapter annual meeting at Camp Kieve in Nobleboro

Join us October 1-3 for a weekend of exploring

By Larry Dyer, vice chair

You are invited to the Maine Chapter’s Annual Meeting — a weekend of fun, food and activities. This year’s meeting will be held Friday, October 1st to Sunday, October 3rd at Camp Kieve in Nobleboro. Camp Kieve is on Damariscotta Lake and is close to Mount Battie in Camden, for weekend hikes.

Accommodations include bunks in newly renovated and heated cabins with full bathroom facilities or a spot for pitching a tent. Meals include hot and cold breakfasts, trail lunch buffet options, and a delectable chicken or vegetarian dinner on Saturday. The full weekend (two nights in a cabin and all meals) is $99 per person. À la carte options are available, so members can pick and choose from meals and nightly accommodation options. The spacious cafeteria is also newly renovated and heated.

Weekend Agenda:

Friday:
• Chili cook-off, and activities to be announced from 5 to 9 PM

Saturday:
• Daytime outings including hikes, and paddles (plenty of kayaks and canoes available)
• Tennis courts available
• Social hour beginning at 5 PM
• Dinner (vegetarian option) at 6 PM
• Business meeting to elect officers, provide committee updates and recognize volunteers at 7 PM
• Guest speaker (to be announced) at 8 PM

Sunday:
• Morning outings and activities.

Please note:
We will be adding more outings and indoor skill sessions for Saturday (and potentially Sunday) to the online calendar at www.amcmaine.org, in addition to what is posted in the calendar section of this newsletter. The majority of the scheduled outings require advanced registration with the trip leader.

The Nominating Committee will soon form the slate of officers and members to serve on the chapter’s Executive Committee. The list of candidates will be posted on the website at least two weeks before the Annual Meeting.

If you do not have access to the web, contact Larry to have a full listing of weekend activities and the list of candidates to be elected to the Executive Committee mailed when they become available.

For more information, please contact Larry Dyer at vice@amcmaine.org or 207-725-6962. All AMC members are encouraged to participate in any or all of the weekend’s activities, as well as voice their opinions on the direction of the Maine Chapter.

Volunteers needed for Common Ground Fair booth

The Maine Chapter of the Appalachian Mountain Club is seeking volunteers to staff the Maine Chapter booth at the Common Ground Fair Sept. 24-26 hosted by the Maine Organic Farmers and Gardeners Association (MOFGA) near Unity Maine.

Each year the Maine Chapter has a booth at the fair in the Environmental Concerns tent. Hundreds of Mainers pass through the tent during the fair and it’s a great opportunity to visit with AMC members and the public at large.

It’s a chance to learn about the concerns of people throughout the states as well as talk about the benefits of being a Maine Chapter AMC member.

Standing at a booth is fun when people stop by to talk, so volunteers will have some tools available to lure folks in. For example some years the display has included a question on a white board (something like “How many miles of the Appalachian Trail are in Maine?”) as well as a three-dimensional map of central Maine. With items like these, it’s easy to start a conversation and the time passes quickly.

Volunteers staff the booth two at a time for three hour shifts on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. In return volunteers receive a free ticket to the Common Ground Fair for the day.

Please sign up to volunteer at the fair by contacting Jeanne Christie at jeanne.christie@aswm.org or (207) 310-8708.

Thank you!

WORKSHOPS
Sat., Jul. 31. Trip Leading Workshop For Maine Chapter Leaders, Kennebec Highlands, Belgrade/ Vienna. Come join us on Saturday, July 31 for a day-long Trip Leading Workshop for Maine Chapter leaders and leaders-to-be. While this leadership training is not required, it’s a great opportunity to gain experience in trip leading by learning the basics, sharing information on lessons learned, and gaining experience through practice situations. The workshop will involve active learning through scenarios; attendees will travel in small groups between instruction stations through the trail network of the Kennebec Highlands near Belgrade and Vienna. Topics will include trip planning, group handling, weather and environment, and managing situations. New leaders and co-leaders are specifically invited, as is any one considering becoming a leader. The day will end with a BBQ courtesy of the Outings Committee to thank our leaders for their hard work and service. Please contact leader Roger David to participate. There is no cost for this workshop. L Roger David (207-737-2933, rogerdavid@earthlink.net), L Jeff Aceto.

TRAILS
Fri., Jul. 2-5. Trail Work Weekend at Little Lyford Lodge and Cabins. Celebrate July 4th at the Little Lyford Lodge and Cabins as a volunteer trail worker. We’ll work in conjunction with an AMC trail crew on existing trails or trails under construction. Ample leisure time to explore the area, which includes Gulf Hagas, a spectacular nearby river gorge. Contact Peter for details. L Peter Roderick (207-239-2704 before 9:00p.m., trails@amcmaine.org).
Sat., Jul. 3. Trail Work: Burnt Meadow Mountain - Brownfield. Work on new trail continues with side hill and rock step work scheduled. Contact Keith for details. L Keith Chapman (207-799-5212 before 9:00p.m., trails@amcmaine.org).
Sat., Jul. 17. Trail Work: Stone Mountain - Brownfield. Join us as we continue work on a new trail on Stone Mountain. Worth the effort just for the stories you can tell 20 years from now - or sooner. YOUNG MEMBERS
Sun., Aug. 15. Young Members Speckled Mountain Hike. Young members are invited to hike spectacular Speckled Mountain! Tucked in the Caribou-Speckled Mountain Wilderness of the White Mountain National Forest, Speckled is the lesser sought of the two peaks, but should not be understated in its views. We will do an 8.6 mile loop of the Bickford Brook and Blueberry Mountain Trails. We will pass by a series of small cascades on route to the 2,906 foot summit with a total elevation gain of 2,500 feet. The route will go over several open ridges that afford spectacular views of the surrounding mountains including Mount Washington. This is intended as a young members hike, but all are welcome. Possible after-hike dinner at a local restaurant for interested L Carolyn Arcand (207-215-5306, carolynmarcand@yahoo.com), CL Laura Flight (207-215-5306 after 9PM, flyroadflight@systemfolder.com).

SEA KAYAKING

Wed., Jul. 7. Midweek Sea Kayak Outing, Phippsburg. Source kayaking outing from Basin in Phippsburg to Wintegance Bay in the New Meadows River. Watch ospreys as you paddle out of a protected bay to open ocean water. Lunch on an island, or along the coast. Plan on 3-4 hours on the water. Hiking available after. Great outing for 50+ crowd, but open to all. L Michelle Moody (207-319-7355 before 9:00pm, meacm@micstan.us), CL Stan Moody.

Fri., Jul. 9. Midweek Cathance River Paddle, Bowdoinham. This river feeds into Merrymeeting Bay. We will paddle to protected areas, including encounters with seals and eagle nests. Meet at 5:30pm. Trek is weather- and tide-dependent, and may be modified for conditions by L. L Jeff Aceto (207-650-5674, outings@amcmaine.org).

Sat., Aug. 14. Androscoggin River Paddle to Cow Island. Join us for an early evening 6-mile trek from Mackeral Cove. Great birding and one of the best sunsets on the coast. Meet at 5:30pm. Trek is weather- and tide-dependent and may be modified for conditions by L. L Jeff Aceto (207-650-5674, outings@amcmaine.org).

FLATWATER PADDLING

Sun., Jul. 11. Bike/Paddle Kennebec River Between Solon and Bingham. Ride the rail-trail from Solon to Bingham, returning via Kennebec River in your canoe or kayak. Necessary logistics alone are worth the trip. Carspotting and other details would challenge most Ls - but not ours! See how they do it, and have a fun time riding and paddling along the Kennebec. L Peter Roderick (207-293-2704 Before 10:00am, roderick1027@fairpoint.net), L Jeff Aceto (207-650-5674 Before 9:00pm, acetojt@suscom-maine.net).

Kayaking, biking, and backpacking trips offered this summer

Cow Island. Plan on 3-4 hours on the water. Wide section of river to start then tour around the island. We may go to another 2449 feet based on group ability and conditions. Kayaks would be best. L. Michelle Moody (207-319-7355, meamic@micstan.us), CL Stanley Moody.

Sun., Aug. 15. Cathance River to Bradley Pond, Topsham. Meandering river paddle past farm fields, woods and beaver habitat to pond. This is a joint venture with the Brunswick Topsham Land Trust to celebrate 25 years of work and see some of the conserved area from the water side. Plan on 4- hours on the water. Easy paddle with little current. L. Michelle Moody (207-319-7355 before 9pm, meamic@micstan.us), CL Stanley Moody.

MWI OUTINGS

Sat., Jun. 26. Big Moose Mountain, MWI Area. Come join us for a special hike to Big Moose Mountain (3196') in the Maine Woods Initiative (MWI) area. This is a moderate hike with a RT distance of 6.6 miles and approximately 2000' of elevation gain. This mountain was home to the first established fire tower in the state! Summit has tremendous views of the Moosehead region, Kathadin, and the Bigelow Range. A large platform area at the summit makes for a great lunch spot to take in the views. L. Jeff Aceto (207-650-5674, outagin@gmaminame.org), CL Jason Toner (207-650-5674, jandstoner@roadrunner.com), DL L. Michelle Moody (207-319-7355 before 9:00pm, meamic@micstan.us), CL Stanley Moody.

Sat., Jul. 4. Borestone Mountain Sanctuary, Eliotville, MWI Area. Join us for an invigorating hike up to enjoy 360-degree views from two peaks. 1100' elevation gain. Some steep sections, step stones, rungs in rock. Contact L about free camping opportunities in the area. This is a Maine Audubon Sanctuary. A fee is collected at the visitor’s center. Come join us for a special hike in the MWI area. L. Michelle Moody (207-319-7355 Before 10:00pm, meamic@micstan.us), CL Stanley Moody.

Sun., Jul. 5. Little Wilson Falls on the AT, MWI Area. Lovely three-mile RT walk through the woods to the AT and the falls. Some elevation gain. Swimming opportunities at lower falls at parking area. Combine with 7/24 outing for a full weekend. Contact Leader for free camping opportunities. Come join us to experience the MWI area. L. Michelle Moody (207-319-7355 Before 10:00pm, meamic@micstan.us), CL Stanley Moody.

NATURE OUTINGS

Sat., Jul. 17. Angel Falls. Hike to scenic Angel Falls, one of the highest waterfalls in Maine. We’ll visit Coos Canyon on the way. Both are located near Rangeley, ME. L. Peg Nation (207-583-2720 before 9:00pm, mtnation11@earthlink.net), CL Alix Pratt (207-233-9249 before 9:00pm, alixpratt@gmail.com).

HIKING AND WALKING

Wed., Jun. 30. 300' Cascades and Three Ponds, Shelburne, New Hampshire. If Millbrook Road is open, the hike will be shortened by 2.2 miles. We will proceed up Austin Brook Trail, then take a left on the Dryfall Falls Trail to visit cascades falling 300’. We will pass Dream Lake, Moss Pond and Gentian Pond on the Mahoosuc Trail. Expect some boggy areas and stream crossings. We descend on the Austin Brook Trail 1200' for 2.4 or 3.5 miles. 7.5 or 9.7 total miles with 1850' or 2100' elevation gain. Moderate pace. Near Shelburne, New Hampshire. L. Jane Gibbons (207-647-3987, panjanie@wildblue.net), L. Herb Kingbery (207 439-6464 7:00-9:00 pm).

Sat., Jul. 10. Redington Mountain. In search of hikers with a sense of adventure! Redington Mountain is the only 4000-foot in Maine that does not have a formal trail to the summit. Join us for an old-fashioned Maine bushwhack with RT of 7 miles, and a total vertical climb of 1500’. We won’t need map and compass as the trail follows old logging roads and previous trails, but who knows what we’ll find at the summit? Perhaps rare and unique views of the Crocker’s, Chain of Ponds Snow, and Boundary Mountains. Few hikers ever reach this summit - join us and you’ll learn why. You’ll need to be fit enough to hike all day (moderately-paced), have the courage to go off the beaten path, and be ready to accept the challenge of being led into the unknown. Be forewarned - this trip will be an adventure! L. Roger David (207-737-2373 before 9:00pm, rogerdavid@earthlink.net).

Sat., Jul. 16. NE 100 Highest: Goose Eye Mountain. NE 100 Highest, Goose Eye Mountain (3870’) has magnificent views in all directions. Join David and Jason on this loop hike, 7.6 miles over two open Peaks (Goose Eye and Mount Carlo) with excellent views from both peaks. This strenuous hike with some steep spots and we will hike at a moderate pace but take plenty of time for views and photos. L. David Littig (207-318-9181, dlittig@hotmail.com), CL Jason Toner (jandstoner@roadrunner.com)

Sat., Jul. 24. Mount Carrigain. Mount Carrigain (4680’) via Signal Ridge Trail. 10 miles at a moderate pace with magnificent views from Signal Ridge and summit observation tower. Tom Pettingill (781-221-79), and Debby Kantor (854-3431, dlkantor@aol.com) after 7/10. L. Debby Kantor (207-854-3431 before 9:00pm, dlkantor@aol.com), CL Tom Pettingill (781-221-79).

Sat., Jul. 31. Oh Canada! Join us for lunch, eh, in Canada, where we’ll sing the National Anthem in celebration of their Gold Medal in Olympic hockey. Along the way we’ll summit two of New England’s 100 Highest - Kennebago Divide and Whitecap. Requirements: sense of humor and adventure, as well as a passport as we bushwhack through the woods of Western Maine. Moderate grades and pace over RT distance of about 10.2 miles. L. George Brown (207-585-2259, gwbrown@ids.net), CL Peter Broderick (207-778-8001, coolbrdrgi@gi.net).

Sat., Aug. 7. Mount Abraham. Join us for an uncommon hike! Using a special permit access, this trip will summit Mount Abraham via the AT northbound to the Mount Abraham Side Trail. This unique route is 7.6 miles RT with approximately 2000’ vertical at a relaxed pace without difficult terrain. Hikers will be able to experience distinctive alpine settings on the way to the remnants of the fire tower at its 4050’ open summit. The reward will be spectacular views of Saddleback, Crookers, and Sugarloaf. L. Deb Burke (603-742-2894 before 9:00pm, djb11453@hotmail.com), CL George Brown.

Sat., Aug. 14. Jackson Webster Loop Hike. Hike to Mount Jackson (4052’) near Crawford Notch. 5 miles with 2150’ elevation gain at easy pace. Some challenging sections to a nice view. Kids with hiking experience are welcome. L. Wanda Rautenberg (802-432-7840 before 9:00pm, wandarice@comcast.net).

Sat., Aug. 21. Selleburne Moriah and Mount Moriah. Hike a loop of Selleburne Moriah and Mount Moriah from Wild River using Selleburne Trail, Kenduskeag Trail, Cartier-Moriah Trail, and Moriah Brook Trail. 14.5 miles at a moderate pace. L. Lewis Dow (207-800-8512 before 9:00pm, lewisdow@yahoo.com).

Sat., Aug. 21. Goose Eye, East (3794') and West (3870') Peaks. Peaks via Wright Trail. 8.6-mile loop at a moderate pace along a scenic streamside trail, leading to two wide open summits in the Mahoosuc Range. L. Debby Kantor (dkantor@aol.com, 207-854-3431) and CL Tom Pettingill (207-781-2219). L. Debby Kantor (207-854-3431 before 9:00pm, dlkantor@aol.com), CL Tom Pettingill (207-781-2219).

Wed., Aug. 23. West Rattlesnake and Five Finger Point, Squam Lake Area. Lovely views over Squam Lake and secluded swimming beaches. Paced for families with children. 2.3 or 5.4 miles with a 450’ gain. From Route 113, go up the easy Old Briddle Path for 0.9 miles to the viewpoint over the lake where “On Golden Pond” was filmed. Then we’ll descend steeply 600’ in 0.4 miles on the Rattlesnake Trail. Go back over 0.9 miles on the Undercut Trail (total 2.3 miles and a 450’ gain). Many may choose to drive to a parking area on Pinehurst Road and hike the Pasture Trail and Five Finger Point Trail for the total 3-1 mile loop past lovely cliffs, bays, viewpoints and secluded beaches. Hikers can do all or part of this hike. We’ll enjoy swimming (no lifeguards), weather permitting. If all goes well this summer, this will be L’s red lining list finish. L. Jane Gibbons (207-647-3987, panjanie@wildblue.net), L. Rita Minnon (603-332-6652 7:00-9:00pm, mimnon@mtnets.net).

Sat., Sep. 4. Bald and Saddleback Wind, Cathage. This is an un-trailed mountain with 360-degree views— one of the gems of the area. Join us for some bushwhacking and time spent working on map and compass skills, before the proposed wind farm is installed. Approximately 7 miles with 2600’ elevation gain. The route is a moderate hike to an open summit. L. Peter Broderick (207-778-8001, coolbrdrgi@gi.net), CL George Brown (207-585-2259, gwbrown@ids.net).

Wilderness Matters
Harm from lightning is pretty rare, but here is some good advice

By Laura Flight

What happens almost a million times a day, or about 100 times per second? Lightning strikes the earth! But about 70% of the earth is the vast open ocean, so what is there to worry about?

About 200-300 people annually are struck by lightning in the United States alone, and an average of 50-60 die. Who are these people?

Folks just like YOU and ME — hikers of the mountains and paddlers of the waters. So, as the summer recreation season and coincident thunderstorm season approach, here are a few facts, myths, and tips to keep in mind, as well as what to do if you get caught, or worse, struck.

Facts:

• If there is thunder, there IS lightning. Just because you can’t see it doesn’t mean it isn’t there.

• Lightening can strike from a thundercloud that is up to 6 miles away.

• Odds of being struck in a given year: 1-in-500,000 to 1-in-750,000. Odds of winning the MegaBucks lottery: 1-in-1,947,792. You are 2.5-times as likely to get struck by lightning!

• Odds of being struck in your lifetime, 1-in-3,000 to 1-in-6,000.

• 400-600 lightning-related injuries reported in the U.S. each year.

• 1/3 of injuries are on the job, 1/3 recreational activities, 1/3 other situations (buildings)

• Water can conduct electricity. So if the water body you are paddling on gets struck…

• Lightning can reach temperatures of 50,000 degrees Fahrenheit

• Lightening safety week: June 20-26, 2010.

Myths (in italic text):

• You can have thunder, but no lightning. NOT TRUE! Thunder is produced from lightening; lightening in essence breaks the sound barrier and causes thunder.

• If it’s not raining, there is no lightning. NOT TRUE! If there is thunder, there is lightning, and there can be lightning if there is no thunder (you just can’t hear the thunder). And it doesn’t have to be raining to have either of these.

• Lightning never strikes the same place twice. NOT TRUE! The Empire State Building gets struck about 25-times a year.

• A lightening victim is electrified, so you should not touch them. NOT TRUE! The human body cannot store electricity, so give the person the first aid they need; they have a 90% survival chance!

Tips:

Check the weather forecasts and know where you might be when thunderstorm probability is high. Will you be walking Franconia Ridge at 2PM? Probably not a good plan if thunderstorms are predicted.

Become a meteorologist yourself. When hiking or on the water, frequently assess the cloud formations in the sky. Look for a line of dark clouds that are often taller than they are long and have an anvil shape; these are cumulonimbus clouds and harbor thunderstorms!

The distance the storm is from you can easily be "measured" based on the ratio of the speed of sound to the speed of light. Count the number of seconds between when you see lightening to when you hear thunder. This is referred to as "flash to crash" interval. For every 5 seconds, the storm is 1 mile distant. So, if you count 10 seconds between lightening and thunder, the storm is 2 miles away. However, if you are in a mountainous area, the topography may buffer the sound and you may not hear the storm until it is closer.

At the first sound of thunder, you and your companions should seek "shelter" — come down from high, open places and get off of the water. Not in 10 minutes, not after another half mile, not after the next bend, but NOW. Remember, lightening can strike from 6 miles away, but you can only hear thunder usually 3 miles distant, sometimes less. If there is a vehicle nearby (less than a quarter of a mile) run to it and get inside.

The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Association (NOAA) has a saying that "When thunder roars, go indoors!" However, for us backcountry enthusiasts, this is not always possible. What to do if you get caught? If the storm is 2-3 miles away (10-15 seconds are counted from "flash" to "crash"), the following safeguards should be taken:

• Head for the woods, but not a near a single tree or other tall object (these attract lightening). Ideally, get into an even-height stand of trees.

• Leave anything metal (hiking poles, tent poles, frame backpacks, paddles) at least 100 feet away from you and others. Also avoid wet or lichen covered rocks and trees. Remember, water can conduct electricity!

• When picking a relative location to "sit-out" the storm, look for the threat of falling objects from above, as many thunderstorms also have high winds.

• Hypothermia is a concern as you will likely be wet. Before donning rain gear, get to your safe area. Also, you may want to put on an insulating layer as your body won’t be generating much heat while waiting out the storm.

• Squat like a baseball catcher with your heels touching, your knees apart and minimize contact with the ground (such as with your hands). It is often suggested to assume this position on top of an insulating material such as a sleeping pad or backpack. It will be difficult to hold this position for a long period of time, but the position should be held as much as possible and especially during the brunt of the storm.

• Spread out about 100 feet from your companions to minimize multiple people potentially affected, but remain within sight and/or voice range.

• It is considered safe to come out of "hibernation" 30 minutes after the last clap of thunder.

• If someone is struck, common effects are cardiac arrest, unconsciousness, organ damage, paralyis, ruptured eardrums, and burns. Evacuation is a must. If the victim has no pulse, provide CPR. If the victim has a pulse but is not breathing, provide rescue breathing.

Unlike other cardiac related conditions in the "wilderness," CPR is often very effective with lightening strike victims so it should be practiced when needed. Treat burns and other sustained injuries as any other wilderness injury(s).

Please don’t let all of this make you a couch potato this summer. Just have a plan, keep an eye and an ear to the sky, and respect the power of the storm.

BACKPACKING AND CAMPING

Sat., Jul. 10-11. Bemis Mountain Backpack. One-day hike on the AT over two Bemis peaks. 4.6 miles. Stay at lean-to. Two-day hike over three remaining peaks and out the Bemis Stream Trail, 8.8 miles. L Lewis Dow (207-890-8512 before 9:00pm), lwsdow@yahoo.com, CL Jennie Warner (207-229-1220 after 9:00pm), carolynarcand@yahoo.com.

Sat., Jul. 31-Aug. 1. Speck Pond Backpack. Pack into Speck pond, set up camp, and then spend rest of day fishing, swimming, or climbing to the tower on the summit of Old Speck Mountain, depending on group interest. 7.4 miles RT w/1700’ elevation gain. Slow-to-moderate pace. Moderate terrain. L Lewis Dow (207-890-8512 before 9:00pm), lwsdow@yahoo.com, CL Jennie Warner (207-229-1368 before 9:00pm).

AMC’s deputy director reports on Maine Woods Initiative activities

By Walter Graff, AMC deputy director

Recently, I had the opportunity to represent AMC at the White House Conference on America’s Great Outdoors in Washington, D.C. More than 500 leaders were in attendance, including farmers, ranchers, outdoor recreationalists, industry leaders, landowners, foundation representatives, conservationists and educators. We met at the Department of the Interior where President Obama gave the opening remarks and signed a memorandum of understanding. Goals of the America’s Great Outdoors initiative include helping people, especially young people, make a deeper connection to the outdoors, and landscape-scale conservation—goals that are directly aligned with those of AMC and the Maine Woods Initiative.

Through the work and support of so many of you, we are making great strides in conserving critical landscapes, protecting wildlife corridors, and providing new opportunities for outdoor recreation. The Administration is seeking citizens’ input, and people who love the outdoors have a unique opportunity to shape the initiative. To learn more, and to share stories about your connection to the outdoors and the places you love, visit www.doi.gov/americasgreatoutdoors.

There are always surprises when visiting the Maine Woods. This winter, while leading a group of skiers from camp to camp, I got to see a black-backed woodpecker—a rarity for me—and then, of course, the tracks of a Canada Lynx.

With summer almost upon us, we just experienced another fantastic bird migration. And now, we’re seeing a new migration of fly fishermen enjoying our hospitality and reveling in the notion that our native brook trout ponds will be protected forever. Our roads have dried out and the Pelletier brothers have begun our first timber harvest of the season.

And work on Gorman Chairback Lodge and Cabins has begun, with an anticipated winter opening.

Conservation & Recreation

AMC trail crews are improving trails to several backcountry ponds on AMC’s Katahdin Iron Works property this summer, thanks to funding from the Land for Maine’s Future program. Baker Pond, Grassy Pond, Mountain Brook Pond, Horseshoe Pond, and Pearl Ponds are prized by anglers for their wild native brook trout, but access routes were in need of repair. Crews are also creating three new campsites to replace three existing sites on the property.

The Maine Chapter pitched in on important trail work on the Katahdin Iron Works property over the recent Memorial Day weekend. Two more trail work weekends are set for July 2-5 and October 8-11 at Little Lyford Lodge and Cabins. Contact Peter Roderick at (207) 293-2704 (before 9 p.m.) to sign up.

Crews are hard at work at Gorman Chairback Lodge and Cabins, conducting major renovations in anticipation of a wintertime opening. The camps, on Long Pond, are set to include a number of upgrades, as well as a new lodge, new cabins, a shower house, and a sauna. Gorman Chairback will be a great new addition to our popular network of lodge-to-lodge ski trails.

New Trip Leaders welcomed

Welcome to new leader Bill Brook (right)! Bill is an accomplished four-season hiker and he looks forward to leading a variety of trips for the Maine Chapter. He especially enjoys winter hiking and has been a regular on several advanced winter hikes over the past two years including Washington, Adams, and Katahdin.

Congratulation to David Littig (left) for becoming a leader with his recent mentor hike on NE Cannon-ball. He has been an active participant in the Maine Chapter for three years and is an experienced 4 season hiker. You can join David on July 17 as he leads a trip to Goose Eye Mountain.

AMC Maine Conservation Office – Portland Summer Volunteers Needed!

- AMC Information-Education Volunteers
- 4+ hours per week June-September
- Talk to the public about AMC, outdoors recreation in Maine

AMC’s Conservation Policy office recently relocated to downtown Portland – 30 Exchange Street in the Old Port. To take full advantage of this pedestrian-friendly location, we would like to make the office a location where the public can come in and learn about AMC, the Chapter, our Maine Wilderness Lodges, and outdoor recreation opportunities in Maine’s north woods. In order to do this, we need enthusiastic AMC volunteers who can speak knowledgeably about AMC and outdoor recreation. Volunteers may occasionally be working in the office without staff supervision. Training will be provided.

We are looking for volunteers who can work in the office one to four shifts a week for 4-6 hours each day between June and September.

If you are interested, please contact Bryan Wentzell or Lindsay Bourgoine in the Maine office at 899-0150 or bwentzell@outdoors.org.

Thanks!!

Bryan Wentzell and Lindsay Bourgoine
